Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales issued the following statement this week in the interests of the sixth Victory loan:

"These are eventful and world-changing days—days and nights of heroic deeds and self-sacrifice. These are days of payment—for quiet and peace and the security of future years.

"The demands of all-out war are immediate for all fronts, and certainly we shall provide the best of equipment and abundance of supplies for those who carry our flag and fight a well-equipped enemy.

"We can always do better. Let us show our gratitude and protect our native land by over-subscribing the sixth Victory loan. This is a time of challenge to the home front.

"This is another front. Let us make it strong and powerful against the enemy. Newmarket, a grand little town, expects everyone to do his duty in the sixth Victory loan."

Creek Polluted, Says Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H.

"The sewer on Gorham St. doesn't go far enough and the creek is being polluted," Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., informed Newmarket town council on Monday evening.

"There are some houses that aren't connected with the sewer at all and have drainage to the creek," said Councillor Wm. Dixon. "The difficulty about connecting with the Gorham St. sewer has been cleared up," reported Reeve Fred A. Lundy.

"There is quite an improvement in the dump," said Dr. Wesley. "The garbage is being dumped around the edge."

"The papers burning there are causing an odor and a large number of eggs have been dumped there and have not been covered up. On the west side the garbage is tumbling over to C.N.R. property. If you'd let the board of health have their way, it would have been fixed up before now."

In reply to a query from Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, Councillor Wm. Dixon, chairman of the property committee, said that he had looked into the matter and that was why there was an improvement.

"What is to be done in cases where people have been ordered by the board of health to put in inside toilets when they can't connect with the sewer?" Councillor Dixon asked Dr. Wesley.

Dr. Wesley stated that they would be allowed to keep their outside toilets if they were not a nuisance.

"There are some townspeople who want to put in inside conveniences and pay the town for them over a five-year period," said Dr. Wesley.

Dr. Wesley stated that people who had purchased the equipment but could not get a plumber to do the work would be treated with leniency.

"Unfortunately, there is a war on and we can't have everything we want," said Dr. Wesley. "They will have the work done as soon as possible."

As residents on Gorham St. had protested because the sewer was below average depth, Reeve Fred A. Lundy explained to the council, the town engineer had made a chart to simplify the finding of the starting point for digging.

BUY BONDS TO FIGHT, URGES C. B. THOMPSON

"If we did half as much as the fighting boys are doing, we would raise this money in one day," G. B. Thompson, Holland Landing, told Main St. shoppers in Newmarket on Saturday night over an effective loud-speaker system arranged by Stewart Beare.

J. L. R. Bell of Victory loan headquarters introduced Mr. Thompson, the well-known East Gwillimbury fox farmer, a star salesman in preceding loans and a working committee man in this loan.

"We have been at war for nearly five years," said Mr. Thompson to his Water St. to Millard Ave. audience. "During that time we have had to build up an army, with tanks, boats, bombers, bombs, bullets and all that goes with an army."

"Over 700,000 of our men have volunteered. Over 20,000 of our girls are in uniform—the cream of the land. We have an army overseas. We have 200,000 in the air force. We have a large navy. We have 70,000 of our boys in the navy. This has taken a lot of money, and will take a lot of money."

"There are 20,000 of our Canadian boys killed or missing."

"We have lost 200 boys, (British and American) missing or killed, air crew each day for this last 12 days, making a total of 2,400 men lost in 12 days, and we are just starting."

"Now what are we at home going to do about all this? It takes a lot of money. This we can do and should do, supply the tools for the boys, so that they may at least have a fair chance to do the fighting."

"These boys are fighting for you and me. These boys are giving their all for you and me. At home there are no bombs being dropped. We have plenty to eat and are able to sleep. Are we going to stand behind these boys and girls? Are we going to be able to look these boys and girls in the face when they come home and say: 'We did our best?'"

"There are mothers watching the papers every day, watching, hoping and praying."

"What does all this mean to us? Surely we can at least lend the money. You will get it all back with interest. You will feel better if you lend your money. Your $100, $500 and $1,000 might save some boy or girl."

"Come on, North York. Let us show this loan over. Let us show Hitler that we are behind our fighting men. We will be doing only our duty."

"Our boys stand out as the best in the world. We have a great country, a country the boys are fighting to save. Are we going to let them down? Let us save our money and put it into Victory bonds."

"Let us save to put money into Victory bonds and help bring our boys and girls home. Let us save for a rainy day. Victory bonds are the best investment the world has to offer today. Your country needs your money."

"Will Do Everything We Can For Returning Boys"

Discussion concerning the rehabilitation of Newmarket soldiers returning from overseas took place at a Newmarket town council meeting on Monday evening.

Deputy Reeve A. D. Evans had a great deal of information regarding rehabilitation.

"Each case will have to be handled on its own merits," said Councillor Frank Bowser.

"What do you want done?" asked Councillor J. L. Spillite.

"We will have forms for men to fill out and then we can go to work and see what can be done for them," said Mr. Evans.

"It is a big proposition," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"We want to work it out so that there will be a job for everyone," said Mr. Evans.

Mr. Bowser stated that he thought the committee would be notified when soldiers arrived back in Toronto from overseas.

"It is important that all returning soldiers register at the town clerk's office," said Mayor Dales.

"When you ask them to register they hesitate because they don't know whether they're discharged or not," said Reeve Fred A. Lundy.

"We want them to register whether they're discharged or not," said Dr. Dales.

"I think we're going to have to hire a secretary to look after it," said Mr. Bowser.

"Mayor Dales made a good suggestion some time ago," said Mr. Evans.

"He suggested that the assessor get the information about the soldiers when he is doing the assessment."

"The committee is going to have the toughest job and get the most criticism of any committee in the town," said Dr. Dales. "I would suggest that the committee do given as much co-operation as possible and as little criticism."

"The information will benefit returned soldiers," said Mr. Evans.

He stated that the government would have the life history of every man that went overseas.

"We will help as far as a municipality can with the rehabilitation of the boys," said Dr. Dales.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Miss Agnes Macphail, who will speak in Newmarket on Friday, has given great service to the people of Canada. The farmers of Grey had in her a fighting representative in the dominion parliament for many years, one who never tired of prodding successive Liberal and Conservative governments to action. She brought about an inquiry into, and (it is hoped) reform of, Canada's penitentiary system. She played a part in bringing about old age pensions. During the depression years she worked for assistance to the economic unfortunates in city and country. She never tired of trying to save Canada's human assets, and of pointing out measures necessary to keep Canada's farmers on their farms. Canada's food production today owes not a little to Agnes Macphail and other parliamentarians who took up the farmer's plight during the depression years.

Now Miss Macphail finds herself a member of the Ontario legislature as the representative of the largely industrial riding of East York, although it includes Stouffville, Markham township and part of North York township, one of the best farming districts in the province. She is a member of the C.C.F., of course, and lots of people would dismiss her as a "doctrinaire socialist." There is nothing doctrinaire about Miss Macphail. She is as practical as she can be, making ideas her servants, not her master.

Some of the people who are now expounding the dangers of the C.C.F. are as "doctrinaire" as they say the C.C.F. is. They say that the C.C.F. has bound itself hopelessly to the ideal of state socialism and state ownership of all business undertakings, even farms. These same people are inclined to be doctrinaire capitalists. They don't believe in any form of public ownership. They would turn the Ontario Hydro-Electric over to private ownership if they had their way. They would probably give the post office business to a private enterpriser.

The attitude of the majority of people today, however, whether they associate themselves with the Progressive-Conservative, the Liberal or the C.C.F. party, is to judge each undertaking and each proposal on its merits. In spite of all the lectures about the evils and dangers of public ownership, there still remains substantial public sentiment in favor of public ownership. The Liberal government at Ottawa will have stars in its crown some day for making and keeping Trans-Canada Airways a publicly-owned undertaking. There will be other public-ownership undertakings, whatever party may be in power. Some of them will be a success and some a failure, but gradually we will go forward by trial and experiment to a more efficiently organized world.

FLYING "REFUGEES"

A current magazine article tells that the U.S. government has established a chain of refuges for migrating birds, on the pattern of Jack Miner's sanctuary at Kingsville. Presumably these refuges are principally for ducks and geese and would include a lake or two. Jack Miner is quoted as saying that these refuges provide much better protection than the game-warden system.

A few weeks ago we were discussing in these columns the establishment of provincial parks in King and Whitchurch townships, close to Ontario's principal centre of population. The hills and vales of King township particularly lend themselves to such a purpose. Lakes are not lacking as stopping-places for ducks and geese, if a bird "refuge" were included. Tracts of land would have to be purchased and the co-operation of residents would have to be secured to carry out a general program of restoration such as contemplated in the Davis-Mayall report on King township.
York county council has already done a good deal of reforestation in Whitchurch township, but a provincial park would be more than a county asset. It would be a double asset to the people of Toronto, offering easily accessible enjoyment of the outdoors to the city's residents (on a larger scale than Toronto's own High Park), and attracting visitors from the United States and other parts of Ontario and Canada to the Toronto district. It would also be an asset to the province, contributing to Ontario's gasoline and tourist revenues.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

FARMER JOHN BRACKEN

(Ottawa Journal)
Progressive-Conservative Leader John Bracken has bought himself a farm in Carleton county, which was a sensible and natural thing to do. All his life, and despite his long association with government, he has been first and last a farmer; rooted to the soil.
Come to think of it, it will be an interesting thing to have a farmer as prime minister of Canada. And a precedent. Sir John Macdonald was a lawyer, Alexander Mackenzie a stone-mason, Mackenzie Bowell a newspaperman, Sir John Thompson a lawyer, Sir Charles Tupper a physician, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Robert Borden, Arthur Meighen and Viscount Bennett all of the law. Mr. Mackenzie King is also a lawyer, though he has never practised, and we believe that at one time he raised sheep at Kingsmere. Mostly, however, his role of a shepherd has been concerned with the flock of the Liberal faithful.

A farmer prime minister, should it come (and most people now expect it), won't be a bad thing. Farmers, after all, are the backbone of this country, and maybe we could do with a change from lawyers.
SOCIALIZING CANADA
(New Liskeard Speaker)
The people of Canada must make up their minds pretty soon whether they favor private initiative and enterprise or whether they want elected representatives to think and tell them what to work at, grow or do.
Within the past few weeks the province of Quebec has taken over a large private power company, and the net result, probably, so far as power users will be concerned will be that they may get their power a little cheaper—the amount of federal government taxes which will no longer have to be paid—just the same as residents in some sections of Ontario benefit because Hydro pays no dominion taxes.
It begins to look as though the people of Canada will be called upon to shoulder the burden of air transport after the war. Mr. Howe has announced that no large private company will be allowed to operate in Canada and the T.C.A. is to have practically a monopoly on all important air business. Will the history of C.N.R. deficits be repeated in T.C.A.?
The other day a western Canada weekly editor suggested that before Canada embarks on the socialization of industry involving the management of railways, banks, insurance and packing companies it might be a good idea for the members of parliament to enquire as to the financial success the government is having with its venture into the restaurant business. The editor points out that the restaurant pays no taxes, rent, insurance, fuel or light bills, nor even interest on the capital and yet operates at a loss.

According to the prime minister a bill will be brought down in the house this session to provide for family allowances and it begins to look as though the state is to assume a greater responsibility for the care of the children than it has in the past. It is quite likely that another bill for national health insurance and contributory old age pensions will also be introduced. If the fore-mentioned bill is brought down it may mean that the days of barter, as they have existed in some sections in the past will be gone forever, and no more will medical men be called upon to accept produce in lieu of cash for services rendered.
In the interests of the economic stability of the country the bill which will provide a floor for farm prices appears to be one which should go a long way toward stabilizing the agricultural industry after the war, and should be looked upon as one which will give the farmer somewhat similar protection to that enjoyed by industrialists operating behind a somewhat staple tariff wall.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

(New Liskeard Speaker)
Before embarking upon any elaborate program of state ownership of existing businesses or the entering into competition with present enterprises it might be advisable to take a leaf from the files of experience and profit thereby. We know what it cost Canada before the war to operate a railroad, and a steamship company. In Britain during the last war the government operated the coal mines and in addition to paying some £44,000,000 saw production drop from 258 tons per man per year to 178 and then bounce back to 316 tons per man per year when the mines were returned to private owners. The decrease took place despite the fact workers had their pay increased.

During the depression both Great Britain and the United States tried schemes to put men to work and it was only in Britain that any marked success was noted, or that percentage of employment increased. United States tried the system of a vast public works program using public funds while Britain chose to stay with private enterprise and sound finance and unlike the United States, which trebled her national debt, Britain balanced her budget and reduced the debt. Industrially United States had 72 percent of the production of 1929 in 1938 while Britain reached 116 percent. From the employment angle United States had 82 percent employed while the figure for Britain stood at 104.
We hear a great deal about the success of socialization in Russia and the argument that if it worked in Russia it would work in Canada. The facts as reported by Colin Clark, a highly regarded authority on Russian statistics, show that food consumption which after 1917 improved in all other countries actually went down in Russia until in 1934 it was 25 percent below where it stood prior to the war of 1914-18. In the '30's Sir John Orr found that the food consumption in Russia was 30 percent less than the level of the poorest fed ten percent in Great Britain.
Perhaps some of these contemplated acts will be of benefit to Canada and are justified. Who knows? It is time that Canadians decided to give a little thought to the question of whether or not they want Canada socialized, for after all socialism is socialism whether it is put into effect by Liberal, Conservative or C.C.F. Frankly speaking The Speaker favors a system which will encourage a person to use his ingenuity, and enterprise to improve his lot, and not one where the state assumes all responsibility. Let's look carefully before we leap.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era and Express:

One question that should be in the minds of all Canadians today (right now) is the rehabilitation of our returning warriors. Although at present only a small stream, it is likely to be in the near future a pretty sizeable river and should be taken care of before it overflows the banks. Every lad in the forces is a representative of his own community, fighting and dying for those left at home and in any rehabilitation scheme it is the responsibility of the community as a whole to see that their boys are given every opportunity to refit themselves to take their place in civil life, as honored citizens, worthy of the best that can be provided for them.

This is not alone the responsibility of the industrialist or the business man. It is the concern of all. No business could stand for any long period paying 100 percent wages for 50 percent efficiency. Eventually the returned man would be the sufferer. A local rehabilitation (not a reception committee) committee could take care of this by guiding and aiding the boys to take advantage of the machinery set up by government and where necessary act as advocate in special cases.

Who should know better the condition and handicaps of our own local boys than those with whom he resides? The guiding and helping hand now will save many future troubles for all concerned and bring to the home town that spirit of comradeship that they have been accustomed to in all branches of the service and will sorely miss unless we provide it for them. Do not insult them by hand-outs. Permanent rehabilitation is the thing to strive for, and place the monetary question with the fountain to which all contribute, pleasantly or otherwise.
Make the committee an impartial one, say, two from council, two from the Veterans, Rev. Henry Cotton, Ministerial Association, Joe McCulley and one from the Lions club. Spread the responsibility and you curb criticism. With the co-operation of the industrial leaders and doctors, the old home town will be a better place to live in for them.

Arthur Evans' Hens Really Shell 'Em Out!
Ever since this flock belonging to Arthur Evans, Newmarket, reached five months old, they've been really rolling out the eggs. In December, before being culled to supply us with hatching eggs, 384 birds laid 7,768 eggs. In January, after culling, 342 birds laid 8,875 eggs—an average of over 83 eggs per 100 hens per day! In February, 337 birds laid 7,968 . . . in March, 8,104. That's an average for the three winter months of over 80 percent production! Hatchability, too, has been good—87 percent of all eggs set. April 19 hatched. Isn't that the kind of producers you want in your henhouse? Better order Perks Chex-R-Chix!
Mr. Evans' flock has hung up this remarkable laying record on the Purina plan of feeding. And he is impressed not only by the way they have laid—he raised them the Purina way, and believes the way they were grown has a lot to do with the way they have produced. "I never knew that pullets could develop so," he says.
This year Mr. Evans has started 550 Perks Chex-R-Chix. He is feeding Purina Startena to start. In the first two weeks he lost just five chicks, and they are growing like weeds. How about feeding yours the same way?

TWENTY-THREE LAST WEEK

Tpr. Winters and Tpr. Walker upheld the colors of Newmarket and gained the honors in boxing for Newmarket camp in the finals and championship bouts held in Toronto last Tuesday, April 18. Tpr. Winters knocked out Tpr. Butt of Orillia in the first round. They boxed in the 120-lb. class. Tpr. Walker won by decision over Pte. Peters of M.D. 2, Toronto. They boxed in the 175-lb. class. Tpr. Wichman lost the decision to Pte. Bogurski of Niagara camp (147 lbs.).

The lads travelled to Camp Borden for an inter-district boxing meet on Thursday, M.D. 1, M.D. 2 and Camp Borden were competing for boxing honors. Tpr. Winters of Newmarket lost an unpopular decision to Tpr. White of Camp Borden in the finals. This bout was a real fight. Winters went down for the count in the first round but made a remarkable comeback in the second and third rounds to out-fight and out-box Tpr. White. Tpr. Walker went down to defeat to Pte. Honson of London in the light-heavy class by a T.K.O. in the third round. It was unfortunate for Walker, for up to then he had out-pointed his opponent.

It was a tough night for Newmarket boys, as Rosenthal of Newmarket, although he never won the finals in Toronto, represented M.D. 2 when Gustafson withdrew and Rosenthal lost a close decision to Tpr. Hayden of Camp Borden in the semi-finals. Considering everything, Newmarket came out with two district champions in Winters and Walker and the rest of the boys who lost were defeated by boys who won the inter-district championship. Newmarket boys made a real showing. We are proud of you. More power to your punch next time.

In line with the whole nation this camp has been concentrating on the 6th Victory Loan. It began its preparations well in advance, thanks to Lieut. Freddie White, our indefatigable campaign chairman. Our effort got away to a good start. On the first day 172 subscribers had bought $17,600 worth of bonds, which is 32 percent of our quota. We have 50 percent on this the second day of the campaign. Six raffles have been run in camp having as their prizes Victory bonds to the value of $50 apiece. The lucky winners of these are Sgt. Clark, Sgt. Flood, Cpl. Anderson, Cpl. Travis, Tprs. Mills, Collins, Favallero and Romanovich. We should make special mention of the fact that one of these 172 subscribers mentioned on the first day bought $5,000 worth in one fell swoop.

One contribution made to the effort, not this time in money but in time and energy, was made by a group of men and officers who went to Toronto and to Newmarket and gave a fine showing of what a couple of well trained troops look like. The group was under the leadership of Lieut. F. White, who had as his seconds, Lieuts. G. K. Robinson and H. E. Bishop. The N.C.O.'s in charge were Sgt.-Major Johnston and Sgt. Jones. There were about 95 men from "A" and "B" squadrons making up the contingent. They presented a smart appearance and got a fine hand when they paid their respects at the town hall before the contest.

They travelled by train to Toronto and on their return were again in a parade that marched through the streets of Newmarket and that heard the speeches which were made at the park near the falls of the river. They were an enthusiastic group of men and did a fine job, and in spite of having had such a tiring day they made all who looked at them feel proud, and those of us who belong to the camp were glad that we belonged to them.

Another contribution being made in this camp towards the Victory loan campaign is by L.-Cpl. D. F. Boulton, whose able skill in drawing and artistry is being utilized to make posters that have a telling message. L.-Cpl. Boulton also shows himself to be a composer of no mean merit, for his slogans are worthy of being displayed all over the nation. We could have hoped that there would have been a petition for service men for posters and slogans for this campaign, and had there been we would have put our money on Boulton. We think his posters would be hard to beat.

We describe three of his posters with their slogans below.

"You won't get a medal for buying a bond, but your money will help the fight." This slogan he has illustrated by a large colored facsimile of the V.C. upon a background of a battlefield scene. It is a telling poster.

Another poster, with a background of tanks in action and a roll of bills in the foreground with a G.S. badge pinned to them, bears this slogan:

"You have all gone active. Why keep your money in reserve. Pin a G.S. badge to your dollars. And give them a chance to serve." A third slogan with a clever design worked into the words, reads as follows: "Dust off your foresight and aim for the future. Buy Victory bonds." L.-Cpl. Boulton has made the cross-piece of the "F" in foresight the front part of a rifle. Its double meaning has a real message for all at this time, that all may prepare with a good foresight for the future days ahead.

The following is from the pen of L.-Cpl. Mary McKirwin and she entitles it "C.W.A.C. Flashes":

"For the past week now, Pte. Wendy Olliver and Pte. B. M. Reid have had as their silent guest a cottontail whom they call 'Murphy.' 'Murphy' has made friends with every C.W.A.C. in the hut, and runs around the hut as if he owned the place. As the Q.M. girls claim him, no doubt they have him for the purpose of spying on the Q.M. equipment. To my horror I've found him in my room on more than one occasion. Being an animal lover I just let him stay in the room and I ignore him. And this is convenient, for 'Murphy' hates to be ignored and so walks out. But we all love him, and we hope he will stay with us. I am sure the girls appreciate his being around, just as long as he keeps silent."

"I want to say a little about our sixth Victory Loan. The last one went over big among the C.W.A.C. and on behalf of No. 4 pltn., No. 6 Coy. I hope we go over with a big bang on the sixth. Most everyone of us has a brother, sweetheart or a husband in the armed forces, both here and abroad. They have sacrificed for us. The least we can do is to buy bonds. We heard Major-General A. E. Potts broadcast throughout M.D. 2 Monday morning, April 24, and both you and I know what he is talking about. Major-General Potts has been over there and he has seen Britain's sacrifice for victory. We are living the 'life of Reilly' over here, compared with the British. So come on No. 5, on the double and buy bonds for Victory."

"Before I sign off, on behalf of the R.O.R. staff and myself, I would like to congratulate L.-Cpl. W. G. Martin, who became a proud father of an 8 lb., 10½ oz. girl Saturday, April 22. His wife is the former Cpl. Bette Bowman, who was up here some time in the A.E.'s office. Mamma and baby doing nicely, was the latest report."

Obituary

"Spot," the camp fox terrier, is dead. He was the victim of a hit-and-run driver on the highway on Monday, April 23. It is well that the driver of the car ran away, for there is no doubt that he would have suffered damage to his car and likely to his person had he stayed around to bemoan the wrath of the men that "Spot" was accompanying.

"Spot" was before the camp was. He has been a part of the camp since it came into being. No route march was ever complete without him. So much was he held in esteem that a vehicle went out to get his remains and to bring his body into camp. Honorary burial was done for him. His body now lies near the chapel. A tablet will be made to mark the place where he lies.

"Spot" was the ideal ratter. He had been seen in the early days of camp with two rats in the air at the same time. No rats have dared show their faces since he has been on the scene. Before the chapel, beside which he now lies, was built a rat that inhabited a pile of lumber that was there. He spent more than a day in moving the lumber so as to get at them. Spot was a model dog. He was no yapping advertisement of his own presence. He went softly and quietly through life.

We append the following tribute paid to him which comes from the pen of Major W. E. Bottrill.

A Soldier's Lament For His Dog Here lies our "Spot," a faithful little pooch.

He never had a girl friend, and he never drank "cock."

He padded with the soldiers in his friendly little way.

He went on every route march, never drew a cent of pay.

His name will not appear upon a casualty list.

But his funny little presence on the drill square will be missed.

He wasn't much to look at and he didn't pack a punch.

But the guys just liked to see him when the bugle blew for lunch.

He will not go to heaven now and wear a golden crown.

But the place don't seem the same

People of North York We Must Not Let Our Fighting Men Down We've Got to BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS

Of course we've been asked to buy bonds before . . . and we've bought bonds before. We're asked to buy bonds again . . . and we must buy them again. Facts must be faced . . . this community is not doing the job it is expected to do.

There is no letting-up on the fighting fronts. Action increases day by day. But our fighting men are conscious of their job . . . to carry on until victory is won. They will finish the job, and we must help them. Compared to their job ours is an easy one.

We are not asked to give anything. We are only asked to save . . . and lend. That does not entail much hardship. (As a matter of fact, when we save our money and invest it in Victory Bonds, we are doing something for our own personal benefit.) Surely we can do this much.

Most of us are earning more. We can save more. And the need is urgent. Canada's war-bills are mounting day by day. Others are risking their lives. We must provide the money.

Idea: Stan Walker, former Aurora town league footballer and hockeyist, and one of the better tennis players of the district, is now in England with the artillery. Stan, who comes from Burlington, played fine hardball there but, with no club functioning, did not get a chance to compete in Aurora. He was one of the up-and-coming players at the Aurora Golf club, too.

Don. Brown, well-known Barrie athlete, who played hockey for district depot and Brampton camp last winter, is now stationed at No. 2 C.A.C.T.R., Camp Borden, for advanced training.

Lynn Patrick, former N.H.L. star defenseman and son of Lester Patrick of the Rangers, will shortly graduate as an officer in the American army at Fort Custer.

Another well-known Canadian athlete is serving with the American forces, George Selkirk, outfielder of the New York Yankees. Selkirk hails from Huntsville and played amateur ball there too. Known as "Twinkletoes," he was one of the first Canadians to attract attention in major league ball in recent years, especially when he filled the shoes of the mighty George Herman ("Babe") Ruth back in 1933. Selkirk, while not a punishing plate performer, was plenty fast in the field. He is serving with the American navy, and is expected to play some semi-pro hardball around Vancouver this summer.

Johnny O'Mahoney, retired second sacker with Aurora's York-Simcoe football team in 1941, is now posted in north Africa with the R.C.A.F. By coincidence his infield companion, Tommy Birchard, who played second base after he departed, is not far away from O'Mahoney.

Del. Beaumont, one of the best junior players ever to perform locally, now serving with the air force, is at the negotiations list of Toronto Maple Leafs, we notice. Beaumont, who played for Marlboros after he left his two-year shift with Aurora, would undoubtedly be up in the big leagues now but for the war. Incidentally, if, as when Beaumont turns professional, there should be a financial kickback to the Aurora junior hockey club from the moneyed interests which would form a nice nest-egg for post-war hockey.

We notice that Lorne Evans, now in the navy, who played against Aurora for Milton, and Ronnie Rowe, another sailor, ex-Markham junior, and currently a member of Montreal junior Royals, are on the contingent reserve players list, which means both boys are actually the signed property of the Leafs. The same as L.Cpl. Syl. Apps and others on active service. Boehmer and Marois, the St. Mike's goalies, as well as Gilson of Marlboros are listed as Leaf farm-hands, as well as many others.

Prisoners of war have not been forgotten by Canadian sports fans. A few weeks ago Jack McDonald, purchasing supervisor of the Sports Service League, told me that two softballs, two bats and two sweat shirts were being sent to each prisoner of war. More would be sent but for postal regulations. The idea of sending two of each is that there will be enough equipment on hand for teams to be formed. The equipment is the best that can be obtained. Later soccer and volleyball equipment will be sent. Mr. McDonald is well known in Aurora as secretary of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, which sponsored several Aurora racing meets. He was interested to learn that every single member of the Aurora Cycling club was on active service.

Inghal, capital of the Indian state of Manipur, which the Japanese have invaded and where our troops are putting up a heroic defence, is known in the sports world as the birthplace of modern polo. Polo, it is claimed, was originally played in Persia, then in Tibet, and India, and British officers started playing in the last century. In Manipur the native ruler was an addict and the short stubby steeds with which polo is played were bred and raised.

The game, which is practically hockey on horseback, was introduced to England in 1869 and to the United States in 1876. Since the replacement of horses with motor vehicles, the game's association with the army is not as great as it once was. Polo, of course, is not the only internationally known sport to originate in the "pearl of the empire," badminton first seeing the light of day in India too, with gets its name from a village in Gloucestershire, the seat of the Duke of Beaufort, and was internationally recognized with a code of rules as early as 1830.

An armored corps softball circuit will embrace five Camp Borden teams, Newmarket camp and Orillia camp. The boys will stick to the old rules so far as gloves are concerned, and the first games are scheduled for June 6. Each team will play 12 games with 10 players a week most of the time. Players performing in this circuit will be ineligible to compete in any other softball league. The visiting team provides the plate umpire and the home team the base official.

Games will be of the seven-inning variety until the playoffs and will start at 7 p.m. Newmarket fans will consequently see some of the fastest softball in the province this year, all games being played at the camp, where visitors will be welcome as usual.

A hardball tournament, similar to the Toronto Congress idea, will be played during the summer, with all centres competing for the corps championship on the one loss and out basis. A league might have been formulated but for the fact that Newmarket officials predicted an entry in the Canadian Congress series, and there is only one diamond available for competition at Borden.

Soccer will be played the same way in corps with the boys from No. 23 competing all season in Division B of the T. and D. senior loop. They play Mimico away from home on May 6, which doesn't leave much time for practice. Capt. Pete Kerr is secretary of the club.

Rumor persists about North York that our old friend, "Joint" McComb, is shortly to be discharged from the army and will be signed to a professional contract by Boston Bruins.

Bobby Thorpe, who scintillated for Brampton Bulls last winter, is the property of Detroit Red Wings, according to a list just released. Thorpe was the hottest of the Bulls when the play-off chips

I wonder if there has ever been a census—or whatever it is—of all the different kinds of work there are in the world today? If it could be done, the result would be a fascinating document to read, for, even with our limited means of finding out, there are some almost unbelievably strange types of work.

I read the other day of a woman whose work was to look after spiders who were spinning silk for various war needs.

The spiders, when not working, were kept in glass jars and fed a carefully balanced diet. I think they worked only two hours a week and their silk was carefully wound on to spools for use in delicate instruments. Had you or I read of this a few years ago, we would have voted the writer a clever story-teller.

were down.

Johnny Callanan of Newmarket Redmen is listed as Chicago Black Hawk property. The smiling Irishman was with Kansas City, the Chi. farm team, before joining the army. De Paolis, the best of this year's Trill junior team, is also slated for the Hawks in the future.

Dick Fowler, formerly of Toronto Leafs and the Philadelphia Athletics, is at Toronto District Depot now and will be tossing the apple in the Congress league against Newmarket.

Hired help is hard to get these days as most of you know, and nowhere is it more difficult to find than in racing circles. Exercise boys especially are hard to find and horse owners are scratching their heads about it. Not so with Fred Schelke of Cornsley, owner of the mighty Sheperton, and several other of Canada's fastest horses.

Miss Mary Schelke, Fred's daughter, has filed a bill in fine style and is attracting a good deal of attention these days as she preps her dad's fleet steeds for the Woodbine and other meets. She has the confidence of the horses, handles them skillfully and makes a charming picture astride a horse.

Photogenic was the way we felt about the championship Newmarket bowling team of Harvey Gibney, Herman Bennis, Roy Gibson, Elmo Drury, Horace Cumber and Frank Bennis when we saw them pictured in the "Mosquito" plant organ of De Havilland Aircraft.

The boys are wearing the smile of victory and could be advertisements for tooth paste, or powder. Incidentally, the write-up raises the Newmarket industrial championship to the status of "city" championship. Hollywood talent scouts may be in canal-town any day.

Aurora C.W.A.C. girls are planning a softball team this summer, and are endeavoring to secure Charlie ("It's a strike") Case to coach them. The girls had a few games last year, and are said to have better talent on hand now. They hope to play the "Quecks" at Newmarket, Trinity Barracks and elsewhere in a championship series.

It looks as if this might be the only type of softball in the district, as the men at the Ordnance Depot have not yet stirred from hibernation in this regard, especially with McComb and Wilf. White absentees. Whitey is now employed in Toronto with a war industries plant.

John Stuart, former Aurora boy, hit the sports headlines again this week as he staged a nifty banquet for the Toronto baseball club and Toronto sports writers. It was on behalf of a cigarette company whose wares John handles in Canada. The Stuart racehorses are now in training at Thorncliffe under the guidance of Jimmy Nichols, well-known trainer. Wearing the Royal Stuart tartan this year will be Arthur Vita, who finished second in the '43 King Plate, Ellen Hill, Black Nod, veteran jumper, Fourth of July, Benhard, Rolling Car, Attracting, Shoe Beau and three two-year-olds, Sheriff, Winnifred and Cec Cee. The latter is a half sister to the famous Bunt Lawless. There ought to be a few winners among those nags.

Blackburn Hill softballers are entered in the Wanless league, whose stadium is not far below the city limits, and the boys are practicing hard for the opener around the 21th of May. As yet Charlie Case, "Joint" McComb and the other Aurora Ordnance lads have not turned out for the work-outs. Sgt. "Red" Canning, of the Ordnance Depot, is another topnotcher who may soon be seen in action in Toronto. E. J. Stephens, well-known Richmond Hill sportsman and owner of a Toronto dairy, is sponsoring the team this year.

Teddy Bennett, Doug. Carr, Doug. Palmer, Art. Crean, Herbie Rose, "Huck" Young, Jimmy Crean, "Red" Mitchell and John Mahley are among those working out, while veteran hurler Kenny Doyle and Charlie Proctor, along with the Aurora lads, are expected to join Charlie Ryan's charges. They would probably be interested in securing the services of those two Newmarket veterans, Charlie Vanzant and Bob Peters, who are still able to hold their own with the best. It will take a little better callbro than those first named to set the Wanless league on fire, but there are plenty of good players still available in Toronto and this year a player can perform in more than one league only having to declare himself before the play-offs start.

Monty McCrae, former master at St. Andrew's College, who played hockey with Newmarket inter-mediate and Aurora mercantiles, now an officer in the navy, received a nice legacy not long ago when his uncle, the late Judge Monty Morison of Toronto, died.

Ab. Brown, star of this year's Barrie Colts juniors, is already tabbed for delivery to Boston Bruins next winter. Harold ("Baldy") Cotton, former Toronto Maple Leaf star, is now scout for the Bruins and takes keen delight in putting it over his former team-mates. "Dit" Clapper, incidentally, has not as yet reported for the army and was busy a few weeks ago looking over the Trill-Ohawa series.

—now we accept it as a matter of course.

And there are all kinds of new dishes and clothes and jewellery made out of the most extraordinary things—milk and coal and wood and what have you—till we begin to feel there will soon be no waste by-products.

One thing about work which I think is rather wonderful is that since war began work has taken on dignity—its ramifications are so immense—so spectacular—that of very necessity, it assumes the place in the sun, from which it should never have been ousted.

Men and women have discovered new wells of strength and skill and knowledge, hidden for long, but ready to field a flood of strength when the need arose. They are finding that working with their hands can require as much finesse, as real an art, though of a different calibre, as working with their heads.

These men and women will see different aspects of education from that which sufficed their parents, and consequently their children will find wider and different and more adventurous paths of knowledge than the children of yesterday.

But, apart from all this, there are always the old work ways, too, especially for women—the housekeeping, the sewing and knitting and all the other items of a woman's work.

We have not yet come to all the wonderful new houses, where touching a button changes a room and where, if we can believe what we are told, work will be reduced to a minimum and we will all have time for the things we often crave to do but rarely find time for.

But today, what all this preamble is leading up to is the war work done by our Pine Orchard Institute from May 1, 1943, to May 1, 1944, and I just thought of it as multiplied by similar Institutes all over Canada and so, had an urge to put it on paper and here it is.

Socks, 47 pairs; quilts, large, 14, small, one; knitted wool afghans, two; mitts, two pairs; knitted wool caps, two; print dresses, four 14-year-olds.

Flannelette layettes, four; dresses, eight; slips, eight; diapers, 46; knitted wool bonnets, two; flannelette sleepers, 12; one girl's knitted sweater; one made-over silk dress; one made-over crepe dress; one made-over boy's suit.

Everything was made as carefully and prettily as if for our own, and it was a work of love, for we knew the need and it seemed such a wonderful thing to have a hand in relieving it. It glorified the sometimes tiresome task of sewing and knitting and made us feel that the smallest thing done in a great cause, itself catches something of that greatness.

These historic words, spoken by Mr. Churchill in June, 1940, when Britons were frantically preparing to meet an invasion, can be paraphrased to provide even more inspiration today when our own invasion forces are poised for the attack on the continent.

Yes, we shall fight on their beaches, on their landing grounds, in their fields; we must fight too in our factories, offices and homes, and on our farms. ## VIMY VETERAN TELLS OF WORK WITH BLIND

Canadian National Institute for the Blind taggers will be on the streets of Newmarket on Saturday. Mrs. J. E. Morris is in charge of the canvass and tag.

Capt. M. C. Robinson, who, as the youngest sergeant-major in the Canadian army 27 years ago, lost his sight at Vimy Ridge, learned to be a masseur. He returned to Canada and practised for a time in Fort William and, later, in Victoria.

Fifteen years ago he was appointed to the superintendency of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia and is now national director for all of western Canada. He was a member of the committee which arranged for and carried out the evacuation of the Japanese from British Columbia when Japan went to war with Great Britain.

The other day he was addressing a group of Ontario ladies interested in the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

"The fact that there are 12,546 blind people in Canada impresses me," he said. "It inspires me to think that over 1,200 of them are working under the auspices of the C.N.I.B. The amount of money they earn is of great interest and importance."

"However, I do not think one can get the true picture of what the institute actually means unless he knows of individual cases. I think of the little girl who lived in the Queen Charlotte Islands and who was brought by the Institute to Vancouver, where she stumbled over the curbs as she was guided from the boat to our offices. I think of her now, back in her northern island home, her sight restored."

"I think of a middle-aged man in Newfoundland working at a broom-making machine, a smile on his lips, a song in his heart. He is blind, but he is happy, for he has work to do—a place in the world."

"I think of an old lady in a small Ontario town. On her lap is a Braille book. She is contentedly living out her life."

"If it had not been for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, an organization which has been made possible by the generosity and good sense of Canadian people, this little girl in the Queen Charlotte Islands would not have received the attention which saved her sight. The cheerful blind man in Newfoundland would have had no job. The old lady in the little Ontario town would not have been taught to read Braille and would have spent her declining years in lonely misery."

"To me these are the things that matter. I like to hear of the numbers of blind people employed, and the amount of business done by the blind men and women who operate a tobacco and refreshment stand, and of the number of pairs of glasses which have been supplied through the Institute, but it is because of the individual cases I know, in which the services of the Institute have meant the difference between light and darkness in a definite human life, that I do not hesitate to come to the public and ask them for the funds necessary to carry on the Institute's work."

The annual campaign is now in progress, ending with a tag day on Saturday. Make all cheques payable to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

MARGUERITE CALLAGHAN IS HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Harper Price and Miss Eileen Price entertained 50 guests at a miscellaneous shower last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Marguerite Callaghan, a bride of next month.

To the strains of the wedding march, the bride was ushered to her stool beneath a pink and white umbrella with pink streamers falling round about, which formed a lovely setting for the bride to unwrap the many beautiful gifts.

After a delightful lunch was served, music, singing and the signing of the bride's book, to be kept as a memento of the occasion, brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Now is the time to go through the attic or cellar for articles which someone else needs.

William Bendix, as "Taxi" in a filming of Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary," takes time out for a refreshing glimpse of America's No. 1 pin-up girl, Betty Grable. THE TORONTO CONSERVATORY OF Music's SUMMER SCHOOL holds considerable attraction for music teachers throughout Canada. Opening Monday, July 3rd, to July 28th, inclusive, this year's School offers courses in methods of teaching piano, singing, choir training, theory and ear-training. No specific entrance requirements are necessary, but as the course is designed primarily for teachers, a fair knowledge of the subjects is desirable. Social and Musical activities are under the direction of Miss Persis Hebdon, popular young public relations director. There are morning "Songsters" free lectures by such authorities as Mr. Norman Wilkes, Dr. Charles Peaker, Mr. I. J. Crawford and Mr. J. Campbell McInnes. Students attending are entitled to special students' rates on railway and steamship lines. Write to the Toronto Conservatory of Music, University of Toronto, for booklet. The Summer School is open to men and women.

TO MAKE CANADA book-conscious is the task planned by several leading Canadian publishers, who recognize the fact that away from its larger centres in this country the problem of book distribution is considerable. Smaller towns seldom have book stores. The result of this is that new books have little chance of becoming "familiar faces." Suggestions . . . seek out information about the new books whenever possible, ask your departmental store about them, insist that today's constantly intensifying drama is made available to you in the living literature authors are producing about ourselves and people familiar to you.

A GOOD THING TO HAVE AROUND at housecleaning time. Javex is the housekeeper's friend. It makes the soft sheen of bare boards instantly clean, destroys germs, cracks and corners of unventilated pantry shelves, deodorizes stuffy cupboards, makes plumbing clean and antiseptic, and fulfills those hundred household purposes where cleanliness is essential. Bleaches clothes whiter, too, in a jiffy. Read directions, as Javex is a concentrate, strongest antiseptic and deodorant known to science and should be, of course, diluted.

ROCK GARDENS

(By Rudy Benzius, Newmarket Horticultural Society)

As any garden, you must keep your rock garden weeded and cultivated. The first winter it would be very wise to protect the garden with a covering of evergreen boughs, excelsior or marsh hay. Straw or manure should never be used.

Now we come to the selection of plants suitable for our part of Ontario. Achillea Argentea, silvery foliage, four inches high, blooms May to August. Ajuga Reptans, blue flower, reddish foliage, four to eight inches high, blooms early, spreads easily. Alyssum Saxatile, yellow, ten inches, May to June. Anchusa Myosotidiflora, blue, 12 inches, early. Anemone Pulsatilla, violet and gold, ten inches, early.

Aquilegia Alpina, blue, 18 inches, May to June. Arabis Alpina, single and double, white or pink. Arenaria Montana, six inches, May to June. Armeria Statice, Thrift, pink, compact clumps. Aster Alpinus, six inches, blue, late bloomer. Aubretia Deltoidea, pink to crimson, six inches. Bellis Perennis, English daisy, white to red. Campanula Carpatia, dwarf bluebells.

Delphinium, Chinese ever-blooming hybrids. Dianthus Alpinus, dwarf pinks, June to July. Euphorbia, cypress spurge, foliage. Gypsophila Repens Rosea, pink, six inches, June to July. Heuchera Sanguinea, Alumroot, red, 12 inches, June to August. Iris Pumilla, dwarf Iris, all colors, five inches, April to May. Linaria Alpina, violet and orange, five inches, grey foliage.

Lychnis Alpina, four inches, rose, May to June. Myosotis Alpestris, dwarf forget-me-not, blue, six inches, April to May. Papaver Alpinum, poppy, ten inches, all colors. Phlox Subulata, all colors, white to red, six inches, May to June. Primulas, all colors, May to June.

Saponaria Ocymoides, pink, six inches, May to September. Saxifraga, hundreds of varieties, Sedum, Stonecrop, many varieties. Sedum Acre, yellow, May to June. Sempervivum, house leaks, many interesting shapes. Thymus Serpyllus, pink, June to July, two inches. Tunica Saxifraga, white, rose and lilac, June to September. Viola Cornuta, six inches, May to October, mauve. Veronica Canadensis, one inch, June to September, pale blue.

These are all rock-plants I have tried and found good in our climate. Then we have lots of annuals suitable for a rockery, such as, Portulacca, Petunias, Phlox Drummondii, Nasturtium, Nemophila, Nemesis, Alyssum Minimum and others. All the small bulbs, Snowdrops, grapehyacinths and dwarf tulips are good, as are most of the wild flowers, hepaticas, violets, blood-root, trilliums and the whole line of these early bloomers.

Aurora Makes Good Start On Victory Loan Objective

With a $200,000 objective beckoning, Aurora had subscribed a total of $79,050 in sixth Victory loan bonds by Wednesday night.

Stouffville was $61,450, with $100,000 as the objective. King township had subscribed $129,950, with an objective of $255,000, and Whitchurch had subscribed $70,350, with an objective of $160,000. W. L. Milgate, R. T. Caldwell and Frank Underhill are Aurora's canvassers.

N. P. Kelley, J. P. Jefferson, Aubrey Doan, C. Lloyd, H. S. Pringle and George Horlings are the King township canvassers. J. A. Clark, G. H. Leary and S. J. Marwood are the Whitchurch canvassers.

THREE HUNDRED ACRES OF TIMBER DESTROYED

Three hundred acres of spruce and pine trees and one summer cottage were destroyed by fire in King township on Sunday. Several hundred farmers, firemen and police fought the fire all day Sunday.

Louis Gillham, fifth concession, suffered the biggest loss when 25,000 four-year-old spruce trees were destroyed and 20 acres of tall timber badly damaged. Lack of water hampered the fire-fighters.

Additional Constable Needed, Says Swindle

The town of Aurora will advise the E. L. Ruddy Co. that unless its signboard on Yonge St. in front of the arena is removed within seven days the town will remove it, without being responsible for damage done and at the cost of the company.

Reeve C. E. Sparks and Councillor Rod. V. Smith made the necessary motion at a council meeting on Monday evening.

Councillor Smith said that as far as he was concerned Leslie Beazer, who rented the arena last winter on a share basis, could rent it again next winter. Mr. Smith's sports and publicity committee reported against renting the arena to Mr. Beazer for the summer months.

Mr. Smith explained that Mr. Beazer intended to carry on boxing, roller-skating, dancing, on various nights, with a church service on Sunday nights. "It would have cost $3,000 to $5,000 to put the arena in shape, and we did not favor doing it in wartime," said Mr. Smith.

The council discussed with Mr. Beazer the condition of the arena. Mr. Beazer said that after he had put the arena in shape to turn in the keys boys had broken off a door and done some damage in the arena.

"It is not fair to the boys themselves not to prosecute," said Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook.

"It is another illustration of the need of a second policeman," said Councillor Thomas Swindle.

Chas. Badger complained to the council of the dumping of rubbish at Mark and Spruce Sts. on property that had been given to the town for a street. He said that a checkerboard traffic sign was down. He asked that an elm tree that was sending its roots 200 or 300 feet into his field be cut down.

Mayor Roscoe Linton said that as the town had first dumped tree stumps there the town was responsible for the dumping. The streets committee was instructed to investigate the situation.

The streets committee was also asked to investigate a request of Wm. Allan, 37 Wells St., for permission to cut a Manitoba maple in front of his house.

Clerk A. C. A. Willis reported that Strathdee Transport and its insurance company had refused to pay an account of $25 for putting out a fire in the contents of one of its trucks on Yonge St. within the town.

"A charming sympathetic performance," was the decision of the adjudicator. "Tone clear, pure and sweet. A nice feeling for a sustained line and phrase. Very good diction. An appealing earnest in their tone, in keeping with the song."

Douglas Stephenson, Oak Ridges, a pupil of Iltyd Harris, was awarded a silver medal in the baritone solo under 21 class at the festival. He attends Richmond Hill high school.

"Will Need All Resources To Win," Says Capt. Essex

Aurora officially opened its sixth Victory loan campaign on Thursday evening with a parade from the town park and a flag-raising ceremony on Yonge St. The parade included Aurora high school cadets under the command of Cadet Major Douglas Fisher, and Captains Ross Atkinson, Shirley Fingold, Dorothy Thomson and Joyce McLeod, the bugle band under Lieut. Bill Babcock and the Aurora public school cadets under the command of Cadet Major Bill McGhee.

Lieut. Delroy Babcock, 2nd battalion, Queen's York Rangers, was in charge of the parade. The salute in front of the town hall was taken by Mayor Roscoe Linton.

Following the parade Capt. Roy Essex, chaplain of the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment and former pastor of Aurora Baptist church, addressed the townspeople. Capt. Essex, who has served in England, north Africa, Sicily and Italy, told of the conditions Canada's fighting men work under and said the morale and determination were of the highest.

"We have a long, tough fight ahead of us," he said. "We know the Germans are going to be tough to beat, as witnessed by their stand in Italy. We will defeat them, but it is going to take time, and we will need all the resources at our command to do so. The boys over there are depending on you to do your part, and I cannot urge you too strongly to buy as many bonds as you can."

Mayor Linton voiced an appeal for the full co-operation of all citizens and urged all to see that Aurora "goes over the top." He introduced LAC Alex. Stuart of Aurora, back from overseas for aircrew training, and presented him with a leather billfold on behalf of the town. LAC Stuart, in expressing his thanks, told how the men overseas keep in touch with affairs at home and said that a full response to the Victory loan would help morale.

Rev. A. R. Park of Aurora Baptist church dedicated the flag and flagpole, and LAC Stuart raised the flag, which now floats proudly over the municipal building. A large thermometer, showing the progress of Aurora's campaign, is outside the office and is adjusted daily as the returns are made by the canvassers.

Town Has New Industry In View, Would Employ 75

A firm which would spend $100,000 and employ 75 men is interested in obtaining the "match factory" property, Councillor Thomas Swindle, chairman of the by-laws and industrial committee, informed Aurora town council on Monday evening.

Mr. Swindle reported that the committee had under consideration a by-law to prohibit certain slot-machines and gambling devices but was holding it in abeyance until recent provincial legislation on the subject was clarified.

Other by-laws in preparation provided for the removal of snow from sidewalks and making clear the control over and responsibility for culverts.

Mayor Roscoe Linton suggested more street lights but of lesser strength as a solution of the street lighting problem.

"The public definitely wants more light," said Mr. Swindle. "The streets are depressing," said Councillor Rod. V. Smith.

Reeve C. E. Sparks said that the streets committee would make an inspection.

EVERYONE HAS A TASK, SAYS YORKS PADRE

"Everyone of us has a job to do in the present conflict," said Capt. J. W. R. Shires at Aurora United church on Sunday morning. "No matter what it may be we must put all we have into it."

"We cannot all enlist, those who enlist cannot all go overseas," said Capt. Shires. "We at home must stand behind those who are giving their all overseas. God looks with favor on those who do their best, no matter how humble their task may be. Patriotism and religion are inseparable, we should be reeducating ourselves to God and our country in order that we may do our task well."

Capt. Shires, Toronto, padre of the Queen's York Rangers (reserve), preached the sermon to C. Coy., Aurora high school and Aurora public school cadets and a large congregation. Major Earl Boles read the lesson, and the pastor, Rev. Roy Hicks, assisted with the service.

The parade formed in the town park under the command of Major Boles and paraded to the church via Mosley St. Following the service, Lieut.-Col. Carl Reeve, officer commanding the Queen's Yorks, took the salute in front of the Aurora post office, as the parade moved via Yonge, Wellington and Wells Sts. to the park.

On parade with the Yorks were Capt. Tom Hopkins, Capt. C. J. Devins, Lieut. D. E. Wade, Arnold Miller and Delroy Babcock. The high school cadets were under the command of Cadet Major Douglas Fisher and the public school cadets were under Cadet Major Billy McGhee. The music was provided by the Aurora high school bugle band, led by three lovely drummajorettes, Shirley Saigle, Joan Hill and Louise Kelley.

These Daddies Are Also Sons

MOST OF THE BOYS SERVING IN THE FORCES ARE ONLY A FEW YEARS PAST BOYHOOD

These Sons And Fathers Are Still "Our Boys"

Our purchase of Victory bonds does not line us up as active participants with Canadians in the grim battle being waged on the Atlantic and in and over Europe. We cannot fool ourselves on this point. For there is little or no sacrifice here in Canada that can be compared even remotely with the hazardous life-or-death work in which "our boys" are engaged overseas.

Yet the purchase of Victory bonds is vital to the well-being of our men in battle for two reasons. First, the cash we thus provide maintains the flow of necessary material to the fighting forces. Secondly, the enthusiastic support which Canadians at home give to a Victory loan informs the boys overseas that the hearts and minds of the overwhelming majority of folks back home are with them.

Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the

The bridesmaid, Winnifred Lee, Newmarket, wore dusty pink georgette. The groom was attended by his brother, David Litner, Toronto. Mrs. David Litner played the wedding music. Rev. Gordon Lapp officiated.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT FINED FOR BUMPING INTO FREIGHT TRAIN

Appearing before Magistrate K. M. Lingdon in York county magistrate's court, Newmarket, on Tuesday to receive sentence on a joint charge of breaking and entering the summer home of John B. Hawthorne, lot 35, con. 1, in Whitechurch township, and stealing a number of articles valued at about $300, three Aurora youths, two 17-year-old boys and one 23-year-old boy, were sentenced to three months definite and three months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory.

A fourth youth, 25 years old, charged jointly with the other three was sentenced to six months definite and six months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory. The youths were found guilty last week and remained in custody for sentence. Sentence is to date back to the time they were taken into custody.

Three of the youths, the two 17-year-old boys and the 25-year-old youth, were also found guilty of breaking and entering the summer home of Major James Baxter, Snowball, and stealing articles valued at approximately $200. The first two defendants were sentenced to three months definite and three months indefinite and the last defendant to six months definite and six months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory. The sentences are to run concurrently with those imposed on the first charge.

"This offence is a serious one," stated Magistrate Lingdon. "Under this charge of breaking and entering by night you are liable to imprisonment for life. The property of other people must be protected. Two of you men are 17 years of age. Because of your age and this being your first offence I am sentencing you to three months definite and three months indefinite."

"You are a lot older than these others," he told the 25-year-old. "You have been in trouble previously and you should have realized the seriousness of this thing."

"You should have given a good example instead of bad," he told the 23-year-old. "You are a little older than two of the other boys and are married. You taking into consideration that this is your first offence."

Pleading guilty to driving while his license was suspended, Thomas E. Foster, Holland Landing, was fined $25 and costs or 30 days in jail by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe.

According to Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson, he had investigated an accident which occurred at 9:40 p.m. on April 22 on No. 11 highway near Holland Landing and found that the car driven by the defendant had been in collision with a freight train, and hurled a distance of 37 feet. Mr. Foster and his passenger, Sam Craig, had been badly bruised and shaken up.

The officer said that, upon questioning the defendant, he found that the latter had been driving although his driver's license was suspended.

"I am ordering that your car be impounded for three months," stated his worship.

"Oh, it was pounded alright," smiled Mr. Foster.

Constable Ferguson informed the court that the car in question had been a total wreck. Damages to the front of the engine (compressive), he said, were approximately $50.

His worship imposed a fine of $10 and costs on L. Cpl. George A. Duggan, Camp Borden, whom he found guilty of driving without due care and attention for other persons using the highway.

"On April 16 at 11:10 p.m., while at the scene of an accident on Yonge St. I observed the car driven by L. Cpl. Duggan travelling in a northerly direction," testified Constable Ferguson. "As it approached the scene of the accident it did not slacken its speed."

The officer went on to say that there were two cars at the side of the road as well as a tow-truck and the police cruiser. The cars were lighted up and there were people on the road, which should have given the defendant ample warning that there was an accident.

"This car drove through a number of people into a ditch," stated the witness. "It kept on going and didn't stop until I stopped it in Bradford."

Questioned by Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong, the officer stated that the defendant was travelling at about 40 miles an hour.

In his defence L. Cpl. Duggan said that the lights of an approaching bus had hindered his view of the accident.

"On the evidence I find that there was plenty of warning of the accident if proper look-out had been taken," commented his worship when releasing the conviction.

"You had no business taking the law into your own hands," Magistrate Woodliffe admonished James T. Clark, Keswick, whom he found guilty on a charge of assaulting and causing bodily harm to William C. Pollard, Keswick, and fined $20 and costs or 30 days in jail. The defendant had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

According to Mr. Pollard, who stated that he was a contractor and carpenter, he had been making a window each for a one-story cottage at Wyndhurst, Lake Simcoe, when the defendant climbed the ladder and jumped through the window.

"I had my back to the window," stated Mr. Pollard. "The first that I saw of Mr. Clark was when, as he jumped through the window, I turned around, I said, 'Hello Jim, and what's the idea?' He came up and struck me. He knocked me across a bed, hit me in the mouth and lacerated my teeth. He continued to strike me on the head."

The witness went on to say that Mr. Clark hit him with the window frame on the face and head and kicked him on the body. During the melee, the accused drove his own hand through the windowpane.

Questioned by the crown, Mr. Pollard stated that he put some snow on his head and drove to Mr. Hiram's cottage, where a doctor and the police were called.

Cross-examined by Defence Counsel N. L. Mathews, K.C., the witness denied making any statements about Mr. Clark or ever having any words with him. He also denied striking the defendant's hand with a hammer.

"On information received, on April 5, at about 4 p.m., I talked with Mr. Pollard at the home of Mr. Hiram," testified County Constable William Hill. "His left eye was bleeding and his face badly swollen."

The officer said that he went to the cottage where the alleged assault took place and found blood about the floor, on the window-sash and the trestle, and the glass in the window broken.

"At about 8:15 Mr. Clark came to see me and asked how badly Pollard was hurt," stated Constable Hill. "I said that the doctor stated that he had a badly bruised eye but that he was not seriously hurt. I asked what happened and the accused said that he had gone over to the cottage not to fight but to give Mr. Pollard a piece of his mind. As he got up the ladder he got mad. I asked him if he hit Pollard with the tool and he said no, that he hit him with his fist. He said that he had gotten a crack on the shoulder in the mix-up. I asked the accused how he hurt his hand and he said that he did not know that it was hurt until he left the cottage."

Questioned by Mr. Mathews the officer said that the defendant accused Mr. Pollard of reporting him to the selective service and causing him a lot of trouble. The officer also stated that as far as he knew Mr. Clark had a good reputation and was liked about Keswick.

On the stand Mr. Clark stated that he and Mr. Pollard were rival contractors and had not been on good terms for the last number of years. He said that, prior to the fracas, he had learned certain information and had gone to the cottage not to fight but to tell Mr. Pollard "to mind his own business."

"I had my right hand on the window-sill," stated Mr. Clark. "He had a hammer in his hand. I told him that if he did not stop talking about me I'd lay a charge. He dropped the hammer on my hand."

"The defendant showed his worship his hand, which was still in a cast. Mr. Clark went on to say that he then became angry, climbed through the window and hit Pollard. He denied doing any kicking. Questioned by the crown the accused admitted that his rival was not hot-tempered. He would not say that he himself was quick-tempered either.

"In this case I am taking the evidence of Mr. Pollard," commented his worship. "I don't believe that Mr. Pollard started the fight. I cannot find that Clark was hit on the hand with the hammer. According to Constable Hill, Mr. Clark told him that he had been hit on the shoulder and that he did not know that his hand was injured until he left the cottage."

I believe, Mr. Clark, that you started the fight and there will be a conviction. I think that you went over there to give Pollard a talking to and that you became mad. There is no question but that you received more punishment in giving Pollard the beating than Pollard received. You will be unable to use your hand for several weeks, during the best of the season for carpentering."

A counter-charge of assault against Mr. Pollard was withdrawn by Mr. Clark.

"It doesn't seem to me that this is a satisfactory system, that the income tax returns be sent in through the mail," commented his worship when dismissing a charge against Alexander A. Emmett, King, of failing to file 1941 income tax returns. His worship added that it was his opinion that once the person is advised that he had failed to make the returns he should be required to file them at some stated office rather than send them through the mail. It would then show definitely whether he filed them or not.

In his defence Mr. Emmett stated that he had filed the 1941 returns on March 15, 1942. Since then he had, on two occasions, sent copies of these returns when notified by the department.

"It is common knowledge that mail does go astray but that is very unusual," stated his worship. "It is possible that it might have been mislaid by the department. You swear that you sent copies to the department and I am giving you the benefit of the doubt."

His worship advised Lorne C. Lee, Aurora, who acted on behalf of the prosecution, to report his recommendation to the department as regards a place to file returns once a person has been notified that they had not been filed previously.

Pleading guilty to charges of failing to have lights on his truck and of driving without a license, Joseph Caradonna, Newmarket, was placed on suspended sentence on the former count and fined $10 and costs on the latter.

Constable Ferguson stated that at 10:40 p.m. on April 28 the defendant had driven from Newmarket to Mulock's Corner without any lights on his truck.

"You are old enough to know better than to drive without lights," Magistrate Woodliffe told the youth. "Why do you do such a silly thing? Don't ever take a car out again at night without any lights. It's too dangerous."

Found guilty of a charge of careless driving in Sutton on April 10, when his car failed to make the turn at North and Marlham Sts. and went 100 feet across a sidewalk and over a private lawn, Victor Hilsborough, Mount Albert, was fined $10 and costs. A charge of dangerous driving was withdrawn.

According to Constable Burke, Sutton, the defendant's car came to a stop alongside a pump. Upon questioning the defendant he found that he had been drinking but was not in a drunken condition.

In his defence Mr. Hilsborough, who pleaded guilty to the charge, told his worship that he had driven up to the pump to get a drink of water.

"I think that the main trouble with you was that you had too much to drink," commented his worship.

On complaint of Constable Ferguson, Fred Burgess, Toronto, was fined $25 and costs for travelling at 60 m.p.h. on Yonge St. and Vincent Zorzylo, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs for driving without a license.

Charges laid by County Constable Ronald Wilt were: J. Henry Walker, R. E. S. Newmarket, and Wellington Wilson, H. O. L., each fined $10 and costs for having inefficient brakes on their cars, and John Kanyo, Bradford, placed on suspended sentence for failing to produce a driver's permit at the request of the officer.
